On our first day we got an early start and dropped off Luna and Ruby around 8:00 A.M. For lunch we stopped at Dairy Queen when Ephraim threw a fit about mustard, MUSTARD. On our trip to Saint Louis it was pretty uneventful and went by quick getting there.

Once we get to the Museum we stayed there for around 3 hours exploring every tunnel, grates, slides and Pinball machines. There was even a Playable Open Piano.

We started off by exploring and heading onto the rooftop and I scaled a wall on metal bars and heading onto a Ferris wheel. The rest of the museum was me and Ephraim exploring slides and metal tunnels.

After that we got to the hotel, Swan, and ate at Friscos.
